

A doppelbock dilemma.

We dare you to wait.

Test the legend of Fire for yourself. Grab two bottles. Drink the first and watch your taste buds soar. Then, fight the urge to drink the second bottle. Don't ask us how. Just do it.

Stash it away. Let it be. Let it age. Question is, how long can you wait before temptation strikes? Hence, the doppelbock dilemma. For Wisconsin natives, it's a challenge we love to struggle with.

AVAILABLE: SEPTEMBER - FEBRUARY

Product Description:

A blazing rich beer, this is a doppelbock based on an Oktoberfest personality. Warm and intriguing, a perfect "fireside" beer.

ABV 7.82%

UPC Information:

12 oz. Bottle	89961-20001
6 - Pack LN NR	89961-20020
4/6 Pack Case	89961-20040

Autumnal Fire Awards

- 2006 World Beer Cup (Gold)
- 2006 Beverage Testing Institute World Beer Championships (93 - Gold)
- 2006 Great American Beer Festival (Gold)
- 2004 Beverage Testing Institute World Beer Championships (93 - Gold)
- 2004 Great American Beer Festival (Gold)
- 2004 North American Brewers Association (Gold)
- 2001 Beverage Testing Institute World Beer Championships (92 - Gold)
- 1998 Beverage Testing Institute World Beer Championships (93 - Gold)
- 1997 Chicago Beer Society International Tasting - Award of Merit
- 1997 Beverage Testing Institute World Beer Championships (93 - Gold)

"For brewers like Hunt, the great lager tradition holds soaring possibilities. It includes, for example, brews like Ayinger, Czechvar, Samuel Smith and Capital Autumnal Fire--beers that are complex and smooth-drinking, cold and refreshing, relatively light without abusing the privilege."

ForbesLife
June 2008

www.capital-brewery.com